

Stacy Whalen, MS-MHA, RN, CCM, CMSP

Senior Medical Manager

Safety National

Stacy serves as Senior Medical Manager with Safety National and brings 25+ years of diverse healthcare experience spanning the clinical, TPA, self-insured/self-administered, and excess carrier level in workers compensation. She brings broad industry expertise in complex catastrophic medical claims management, Medicare set aside (MSA) analysis, development of medical cost projections, and a focused robust catastrophic program based on team collaboration leading to improved outcomes.

Stacy is an invited member and Board Member of the Insurance Rehab Synergy Group (IRSG); member of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions (IAIABC) and part of their Medical Issues Committee. She is a Certified Medicare Secondary Payer Professional (CMSP). Stacy is regularly involved with industry speaking engagements, articles and a contributor on topics impacting worker's compensation catastrophic claims outcomes. She completed her undergraduate at the University of Missouri-Columbia and holds a Master's of Science in Healthcare Administration. Stacy currently resides in the Northern VA/Washington DC area.